Portfolios

We've got a wealth of experience and a portfolio to prove it - chances are we've done something similar before so feel free to get in touch and we'll show you something relevant to your project.

Web Design – The Process

First will then provide you your own access in our online project management system so you can monitor the progress anywhere you go. Second, we'll talk with you and take on board any images, text and more you may have for your site build. We'll talk through the structure of the site and offer advice and guidance using wire frame guide.

The guide will include the photos, colors, placeholders, page design. Third, from the initial consult we'll draft x2 versions of your site and then allow for revisions from here. This is so you can design your site and develop it looking the way you want before we build. Once design is signed off we'll make it happen and quickly! Within 14-25 working days we'll have it up and running and any pre-added content in including all types of testing and quality assurance.

From here we then release the content management system with a quick manual help guide on how to get the best from your site - simple! But if you want a more detailed process, please see the separate docs entitled Process Flow Best Practice.
